Brand values

01

People first

Client, student, or colleague — decisions start from their real needs, not assumptions or convenience.

02

Work with efficiency

The responsible path is toward the greatest use of available resources. Quality without waste.

03

Practical excellence

The best possible solution within available resources — not the theoretically perfect one.

04

Balance

Between work and the rest of life. Rigor doesn't require sacrificing what matters outside of work.

05

Leadership through coherence

You never stop teaching, regardless of context. The coherence between what you say, teach, and do is the most durable form of authority.

B800 — Primary

Headers, CTAs, logo, nav, covers

Amber — Emphasis

Secondary CTA, video highlights

B600 — Secondary

Links, tags, iconography, active borders

B50 — Background

Cards, dividers, section backgrounds

NEUTRAL SCALE — EDITORIAL PROJECTS AND COLLABORATIONS WITH THEIR OWN PALETTE

G900 #141414	G800 #242424	G700 #3A3A3A	G600 #555555	G400 #8A8A8A	G200 #C4C4C4	G100 #E0E0E0	G50 #F5F5F5
-----------------	-----------------	-----------------	-----------------	-----------------	-----------------	-----------------	----------------

When an editorial project or collaboration requires its own color palette, the brand steps back to this scale. The grays are calibrated to mirror the luminosity steps of the blue scale: G800 has the same relative lightness as B800, G50 as B50. This allows both scales to be mixed in the same layout without contrast conflicts. The logo appears in white on dark backgrounds, or in G900 on light ones. The brand blue is reserved for materials belonging to fernandolopez.dev.

CRITICAL RULE — PLAYFAIR DISPLAY

Use exclusively at 20px or larger. The thin strokes lose legibility on screen below that size. For subheadings and body copy, always use DM Sans. The italic is especially elegant for the domain and secondary taglines; bold for the proper name and main titles.

Why Pix changed mobile payments in Brazil

The lesson isn't "copy what works in another market." It's understanding what local users cannot do — constraints you can't see from the outside.

Voice and tone

✓ DO

Precise and verified — discard claims that don't hold up to scrutiny

Direct without being cold — technical without losing the reader

Concrete examples before abstractions

Short sentences when the topic is complex

Explicitly acknowledge what you don't know

✗ AVOID

Urgent clickbait: "this will change everything in 24 hours"

Trendy jargon without substance behind it

Lists with no real hierarchy of importance

Claims without sources or with weak sources

Cold, distant, or condescending corporate tone

BRAND GUIDING PHRASE

"Engineering with purpose, always for the person."

Channels and consistency

WEB

fernandolopez.dev

- B800 in header and hero sections
- B50 as page background
- Playfair only for titles and name
- Amber exclusively for primary CTA

VIDEO

Social media

- Lower thirds in B800 with B200 text
- Thumbnails: Playfair title, Mono label
- Amber only for key data on screen
- No extreme zoom effects or aggressive music

EDITORIAL

Medium

- Hero with B800 overlay or neutral gray mode
- Subtitle always in DM Sans light
- Bio consistent across all channels
- Name always with accent: "López"

What the brand never does

× NAME WITHOUT ACCENT

"Lopez" without the accent does not exist in any context. It is the most basic identifier of the identity — its absence is always an error.

× COLOR OUTSIDE THE SYSTEM

Outside the blue and neutral scales, no other color in brand materials. Exception: educational content where color encodes information (diagrams, code).

× UNVERIFIED CONTENT

Don't publish technical claims without verifying them. When in doubt, omit or explicitly flag the uncertainty.

× ARTIFICIAL URGENCY

No countdown timers, FOMO, or "last chance" language. The brand builds trust over the long term.

× PLAYFAIR BELOW 20PX

The thin strokes lose screen legibility below that size. For small text, always use DM Sans.

× INCONSISTENT TONE

Voice adapts in formality but values are constant. There is no "relaxed version" that sacrifices precision.
